Iwo Factions of Clopton Street Baptist Church-Big Meeting Sunday.

AUCTION SALE POSTPONED

Citizens of Manchester Desirous to Know Who Will Be Postmaster of the City.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch,
No. 1102 Hull Street.

There are two factions of Clopton Street Baptist Church that have so far failed to agree on the question of selling the church property and erecting a new house of worship. As a result of this one faction is willing to pay the majority $500 and retain the present structure, and permit the larger element to do just as they wish.

Mr. John Garland Pollard is counsel for the church, and it is expected that he will attend the meeting which is scheduled for Sunday, at which the efforts will be made to adjust the matter and prevent the impending split.

A circular has just been sent out by the minority committee, and the Rev. James B. Cook, pastor of the church, and Dr. J. G. Loving are prominently mentioned. Unless some satisfactory decision is made at the meeting sinday there will be a desertion in the church membership, which may mean that the two branches will establish two churches. The former pustor of the church, Rev. W. N. Sisk, had very much to say concerning the deficiency of proper work and support in behalf of the members of the congregation. To this statement, however, the minority committee dissented and they declare that they want the church to be "saved from the disserted and they declare that they want the church to be "saved from the disserted of a suit in court" to make a final settlement upon the church debt.

Sale Postponed.

By direction of the owner, the storehouse (and seven bedrooms above) No.
502 Hull Street was offered at public auction yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, but owing to the inclement weather and scarcity of bidders the property was not sold.

The lot fronts thirty-six feet on Hull Street, between Fifth and Sixth Streets, by eighty-nine feet deep. The sale will be attempted in the near future.

Postmaster Not Selected.

Postmaster Not Selected.

Complexities are piling up in the Manchester post-office case to such an extent that it is impossible to state whether Postmaster Beattle, whose term expired on December 25, 1908, will be appointed to succeed himself, or whether the position will go to some other candidate.

From what can be ascertained at the present time, it is believed by many in the community that Mn. Thomas H. Smith will be the logical successor. He is said to stand well with the Republican authorities in the State, and is credited with having held several offices at different times under the Republican administration.

Mr. Beattle and Mr. Smith are not the only aspirants who are willing to serve the people of Manchester, but the following is a list of others mentioned: Messrs. Frank Dunford, C. S. Wells. Charles Yardley and E. K. Sampson—all of whom are making a hard struggle for the position.

"The parade will move at 3:30 o'clock through Franklin Street to the General R. E. Lee monument, passing around it, and halting when the centre of the uniformed militia shall have arrived opposite the west face of the monument. The veterans will then take post around and outside the railing. After the placing of a wreath on the monument by a delegation of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and (weather permitting) patriotic songs by the children of the public schools, led by the band, the uniformed troops will march through Franklin [Ryland and Grace Streets to the point of departure, where they will be dismissed.

"CHARLES J. ANDERSON,

The Howitzers will not be in the line of the parade, but will have their guns sta-tioned near the monument and will fire appropriate salutes.

If the weather permits, the school chil-dren of the city will be gathered inside the railing of the monument and will sing suitable patriotic songs as the parade reaches the Lee circle. The first carsuitable patriotic songs as the parade reaches the Lee circle. The first carriage will contain the presidents of the four leading Confederate organizations—the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Hollwood and the Oakwood Memorial Associations. These four laddes will place at the base of the monument a memorial wreath, and, after salutes and music, the parade will reverse and return to the point of departure. General Anderson desires to have a large staff of mounted aides on the parade, and asks that those having horses volunteer for this service and report to him at Fifth and Grace Streets at 3 P. M. General Anderson says that it will hardly be practicable to send out special invitations for this occasion, but that those who lend their services will be doing him a great favor.

"I am 56 years old, and have had considerable experience with stimulants." They are all allies—a mortgage on reserved energy at ruinous interest. As the whip stimulates, but does not strengthen the horse, so do atimulants and upon the human system. Feeling this way, I gave up coffee and all other stimulants and began the use of Postum Food coffee some menths ago. The beneficial results have been apparent from the first. The rhoumatism that I seed to suffer from has left me. I sleep sounder, my nerves are steadier and my brain clearer. And I bear testimony also to the food value of Postum-something that Is lacking in coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Cresk, Mich. There's a reason.
